BEWARE OF A COLD.

"Heat is Life-Cold is Death."

The Scientific American says: There is no greater fallacy than the opinion held by many, particularly the young and strong and vigorous, that Winter—especially a sharp, frosty one, with plenty of snow-is the most healthy season of the year. Very few persons seem to realize the fact that cold is the condition of death, and that, in both warm and cold climates, it is our unconscious effort to maintain our bodily heat at a temperature of 98° that wears us out. To this temperature, called blood heat, every cubic inch of oxygen that serves to vitalize our blood must be raised by our own bodily heat, or life ceases. Since in cold weather the maintenance of a sufficiently elevated bodily temperature becomes very often a difficulty too great for our strength, the advent of a severe winter is really more to be dreaded than the visitation of pestilence.

The saying, "Heat is life—cold is death," has a striking illustration and confirmation in the reports now regularly submitted by Dr. Russell to the Glasgow Sanitary Committee. The death rate rises and fulls with the regularity of the thermometer. So many degrees less heat, so many more deaths, and vice versa. In a recent fortnightly report Dr. Russell says: "The death rate in the first week of the fortnight was twentyone, and in the second week twenty-five. The mean temperature in the former week was 40.8° Fahrenheit, in the lattor 39.5°." He attributes the low rate of the first week to the high mean temperature of the proceeding fortnight, which was 47.3 deg., and adds: "This is a good illustration of a law which we frequently observe in these reports of temperatures and death rates-that a week of low temperature produces a rise in mortality the week following."

In our climate it would probably be difficult to find a more frequent cause of serious ailments than taking cold. Whatever weak place we have, whatever constitutional disorder we be subject to cold will surely discover. We take cold because our vitality is too low to ward off the effects of the reduced temperature around us. As a matter of the first importance, then, to resist cold and the various derangements of the system consequent, it is necessary by proper nutrition to maintain our natural animal heat; second, to retain this heat by a sufficient quantity of clothing; third, to regulate with care the temperature of the air we breathe. Contrary to the opinion current among lovers of cold weather, a fire in a bedroom in the Winter is cheaper and better than a doctor's bill; for, owing to our inactive condition during sleep, the circulation of the vitalizing blood is both slow and imperiect, and hence the danger of taking cold by breathing cold air is greatly increased.

A cold is the beginning of everything that is bad. If any one conscious of baving caught one feels cold chills To Paul foo, or whom It may concern:

BEWARE OF A COLD.

"Heat is Life-Cold is Death." The Scientific American says:

There is no greater fallacy than the opinion held by many, particularly the young and strong and vigorous, that Winter—especially a sharp, frosty one, with plenty of snow-is the most healthy season of the year. Very few persons seem to realize the fact that cold is the condition of death, and that, in both warm and cold climates, it is our unconscious effort to maintain our bodily heat at a temperature of 98° that wears us out. To this temperature, called blood heat, every cubic inch of oxygen that serves to vitalize our blood must be raised by our own bodily heat, or life ceases. Since in cold weather the maintenance of a sufficiently elevated bodily temperature becomes very often a difficulty too great for our strength, the advent of a severe winter is really more to be dreaded than the visitation of pestilence.

The saying, "Heat is life—cold is death," has a striking illustration and confirmation in the reports now regu-larly submitted by Dr. Russell to the Glasgow Sanitary Committee. The death rate rises and falls with the regularity of the thermometer. So many degrees less heat, so many more deaths, and vice versa. In a recent fortnightly report Dr. Russell says: "The death rate in the first week of the fortnight was twentyone, and in the second week twenty-five The mean temperature in the former week was 40.8° Fahrenheit, in the lattor 39.5°." He attributes the low rate of the first week to the high mean temperature of the proceeding fortnight, which was 47.3 deg., and adds: "This is a good illustration of a law which we frequently observe in these reports of temperatures and death rates-that a week of low temperature produces a rise in mortality the week following."

In our climate it would probably be difficult to find a more frequent cause of serious ailments than taking cold. Whatever weak place we have, whatever constitutional disorder we be subject to cold will surely discover. We take cold because our vitality is too low to ward off the effects of the reduced temperature around us. As a matter of the first importance, then, to resist cold and the various derangements of the system consequent, it is necessary by proper nutrition to maintain our natural animal heat; second, to retain this heat by a sufficient quantity of clothing; third, to regulate with care the temperature of the air we breathe. Contrary to the opinion current among lovers of cold weather, a fire in a bedroom in the Winter is cheaper and better than a doctor's bill; for, owing to our inactive condition during sleep, the circulation of the vitalizing blood is both slow and imperiect, and hence the danger of taking cold by breathing cold air is greatly increased. A cold is the beginning of everything that is bad. If any one conscious of having caught one feels cold chills creeping up the back, let him apply a mustard plaster to the bottom of the spine and lower part of the back at once; and by so doing he may avert a dangerous illness before it is too late and medical advice can be procured. It should never be forgotten that "Heat is life--cold is death.

"GERMAN SYRUP."

No other medicine in the world was No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of curative qualities as Boschee's German Syrup. In town lots, at bed-rock prices, in a city of steady and healthy growth, can neither shrink in value, burn up or blow away; and savings deposited in this class of property will, sooner or later, give to the depositor a home, secure to himself, his wife and children, against the exactions of landlords and creditors in the day of adversity. I have desirable RESIDENCE nors in different parts of the city, among them some twenty on South Water Street, within three blocks of the center of business, and I am now throwing open for sale a considerable number of choice lots on North Water street, in the heart of the city, very convenient to business, which I will sell at such prices and on such terms of payment as will put a good lot within the reach of every thrifty citizen who may wish to own a home.

was addressed by Mr. E. McNabb, whose pertinent and well-timed remarks were received with loud applause. Mrs. Dr. Buck was the next speaker, who upon taking the stand said she could not understand why ladies were desired if he would circulate them for him to speak, unless it was that they being regarded as great talkers might be thought to be able to say something on any and all subjects. Reference was made by this sneaker to the scenes which transalred in the court house four years ago. when a few women before the city council protested against the granting of license to sell intoxicating drinks. Now that a good temperance ticket had been nominated, the speaker said it was the ent, who drew a card just before duty of every temperance voter to stand Mrs. Buck was followed by Miss Lizzie

Alloways, who made a brief address. which contained many good points, and was particularly encouraging to those who would like to reform from a life of disabortion. Mr. J. B. McDonald, the nominee for collector, then addressed the meeting in his own peculiar style, and his remarks brought down the bouse. Mr. J. M. Lowry, the nomince for as-the people assembled at the court house to a principle which was among the most important that had ever engaged the At the conclusion of Mr. Lowry's remarks a song was announced, and while the audience was about to sing, a very exciting and interesting opisode took place. A young man rushed up the alsle leading to the stand, and took appeneilin his hand, evidently with the intention of signing the pledge. Having taken the pencil he drew from his pocket a bottle and put it to his lips. After drinking he said that was his last drink, and signed the pledge. He then gave the bottle to Mr. Bunn, who exhibited it to the audience, as he remarked, "He has signed the pledge and I have the bottle." The young man was evidently somewhat intoxicated, but not so much so but that he understood what he was doing.

After the excitement attending this singular proceeding had subsided, H. C. Bradsby, Esq. of Effingham, made a good sucech.

During the progress of the meeting quite a number signed the pledge.

Another meeting was announced for next Saturday, when Mrs. L. R. Cain and Mr. Holman, from Hickory township, will be among the speakers. The bene diction was then pronounced by Rev. W. S. Crissey, and the meeting adjourned.

He went with the young man to a room over Cain & Dodson's saloon, and the young man showed him a card having samples of cloth pasted on it, and explained to him that he should draw a card out of a box, and the number on the card would indicate which piece of cloth he should have. was addressed by Mr E McNabb, whose received with loud applause Mrs Dr. Buck was the next speaker. who then taking the stand said she could to speak, unless it was that they being regarded as great talkers might be thought to be able to say something on any and all subjects. Reference was made by this speaker to the scenes which transpired in the court house four years ago, when a few women before the city council protested against the granting of license to sell intoxicating drinks Now duty of every temperance voter to stand Mrs Buck was followed by Miss Lazzie ollector, then addressed the meeting in his own peculiar style, and his remarks brought down the bouse. Mr J M Lowry, the nomince for as-

marks a song was announced, and while stock of wall paper, which they are selling she audience was about to sing, a very exciting and interesting appeads took place. A young man rushed up the alsle leading to the stand, and took afteredilin his hand, evidently with the intention of signing the pledge. Having taken the pencil he drew from his pricket a bottle and put it to his line. After drinking he said that was his last drink, and signed the pledge. He then gave the bottle to Mr Bunn, who exhibited it to the audience, as he remarked, "He has signed the pledge and I have the hottle" The young man was evidently somewhat intoxicated, but not so much so but that he understood what he was doing

After the excitement attending this singular proceeding had subsided, H. C. Bradsby, Esq., of Effingham, made a good apreech

During the progress of the meeting quite a number signed the pledge. Another meeting was announced for next Saturday, when Mrs L R Cain and Mr Holman, from Hickory township, will be among the speakers. The bene dution was then pronounced by Rev. W S. Crass y, and the meeting adjourned.

Uncle Alien Travis a Victim. How it was Done.

Allen Travis, an old chilzen of Long Creek township, was bilked out of $800 to-day by a sharper who has been here some days, salling under the name of Every inch of room was taken up and Frank Bailey, and several other allases. Mr. Travis' story is to this effect: He was After singing and prayer the meeting accested on Merchant street by a nice looking young man, who asked him where pertinent and well-timed remarks were he lived, and when he replied that he lived six miles east, the young man told him that he wanted to send out some handhills to his neighborhood, saying that not understand why ladies were desired if he would circulate them for him he should have a pair of pants and vest He went with the young man to a room over Cain & Dodson's saloon, and the young man showed him a card having samples of cloth pasted on it, and explained to him that he should draw a card out of a box, and the number on the card would indicate which piece of cloth he should have. It seems that a good temperance ticket had been that a third party was presnominated, the speaker said it was the ent, who drew a card just before Mr. Travis, but it was blank, and when Mr. T. drew one bearing the figures 11 and put it back again the young man told the third party that if he tried again he might get "that $600." The third 'party. however, again drew a blank, when the young man told Mr. T. that perhaps he would like to make "that $600," and that if he could draw number 11 again he had better try Uncle Allen said be saw where he had put the card, and reaching back againg drew out the magic number 11. The young man then told him that sessor, then took the stand. He said that his rule was to retain 50 per cent, of all such prizes, and if he would go and bring $900 he would pay him the $600 Mr Travis went to Millikin's bank and drew out $300, and going back handed it to his new-found friend to count .-

The young man counted it, said it was all right, and shoved it into his pocket .--Uncle Allen told him he wanted "that $600," but the young man showed him a card numbered 41, and told him he had lost Of course, this created a sense of outrage in Uncle Allen's mind, and he began to protest, but the young man said he wanted to see a lawyer, and going down stairs, that was the last Uncle Alich saw

Boon afterward Bailey was seen going out West William street, in company with Plames B. Frazier, in whose company he has been very frequently since his advent into Deestur. A warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Sheriff Forstmyer, who, as we go to press, is on the hunt of the criminal.

TEMPERANCE TOWNSHIP CONVEN-

Pursuant to call the temperance men of Decatur township assembled in the court house, on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of nominating candidates to be supported for the township offices at the election to be held on the first Tunseay in April There was quite a large attendance, so that at some of the ballotings over 200 votes were cast

At the time set for the convention Mr. E. B. Moore called the meeting to order. On motion, Capt J. S Post was made halrman, and J. W. Paine, jr , secretary D L. Bunn, Esq., suggested that as it had been charged that there had been too much time in getting to business at conventions previously held by the temperance people, that the chairman occupy some little time in addressing the convention while the people were coming in, so the voting was going on. Accordingly Capt. J. S. Post entertained those present for a short time with some very pertinent suggestions as to the importance of selecting good men to transact the business of the town, who would be prudent and economical in the expendi For Cot List for -W. THE ATTREING SENSATION In the gullet called "heartburn," (why, it is impossible to conscive, since the heart has nothing to do with it,) is caused by the acetous fermentation in the stenach of the food contained in it, by an everplus of the gastric juice, which is itself a powerful acid. or by the unnaturally acrid quality of that secretion. The ordinary way of treating this symptom, for it is nothing else, is to administer bi-carbonate of sods, an alkali, to neutralize the acid But sour stomach cannot be cured by alkalis, which tend to weaken the digestive apparatus.
